

Uno and Ulysses are among the many that need our help!

Will you help us care for abandoned ponies with a gift of just £50?

Dear Mr Williams,

I would like to say a very special "thank you" for your wonderful support through a very difficult time.

In spite of the recession and the hardships that so many of you have gone through, and having to make cut backs and see the difficulties that many people have experienced; you have stayed by our side and helped our animal friends. You haven't forgotten them, and on behalf of those who work with us on the front line, I would like to thank you so very much.

It isn't their fault that people have made such colossal mistakes or that humans are greedy and take more than they need. They rely on us, they need us.

It has been very hard for us too these last few months. We have had to help other charities who have had problems. We have had to take more horses and ponies in than ever before and we urgently need your support as our stables fill to overflowing again. Please send whatever you can spare - our numbers are growing daily.

Costs are escalating, because there are now so many that need our help so if you can send...£50, £55 or £60 to help us continue our work. Your donations have saved many in the past, please do what you can to help us save more ponies.

I rarely send you pictures of sick or dying horses, I prefer you to see them after they have been treated but I will tell you of one case that shocked me last Sunday lunchtime.

As you know, we never refuse an orphan foal and I got a call from a ranger on Dartmoor that a little foal was on his way to the sanctuary. When the horse box arrived, I opened it up and jumped back, the dead mare - a victim of a car accident on Dartmoor, was still in the
